New Social Program Approved

BY BILL BEARN

The new social program is being initiated by the Student Personnel Office and the Social Committee. This program is designed to provide a more structured and effective social life for the students. The program will be implemented in a series of steps, starting with the formation of a Social Committee. This committee will be responsible for planning and coordinating all social activities. The first step in the program is the formation of the Social Committee. This committee will be composed of representatives from the various campus organizations. The committee will meet regularly to discuss and plan social activities. The second step in the program is the implementation of the social activities. These activities will be held on a regular basis and will be designed to provide a more structured and effective social life for the students. The third step in the program is the evaluation of the social activities. This will be done by the Social Committee and the Student Personnel Office. The results of the evaluation will be used to make improvements to the program. The new social program is a significant step towards providing a more structured and effective social life for the students. It is hoped that this program will be successful and that it will provide a more enjoyable and meaningful social experience for all students.

HOW WAS INITIATION?

Grooms Elected To Lead Y.F.&H.

The Young Men's and Women's Association (Y.M.W.A.) has elected its new officers. The election took place on October 10, 1960, and was held in a secret ballot. The new officers are: President, John Doe; Vice President, Jane Smith; Secretary, Bob Johnson; Treasurer, Mary White; and Public Relations, Dick Brown. The Y.M.W.A. is a student organization that is dedicated to providing a more structured and effective social life for the students. It is hoped that the new officers will lead the organization to new heights of success and that they will provide a more enjoyable and meaningful social experience for all students.

THANK YOU MARTIN

The Student Personnel Office and the Social Committee are grateful to Dr. J. E. Martin for his leadership and guidance in the development of the new social program. Dr. Martin's vision and dedication have been instrumental in making this program a reality. We hope that the program will be successful and that it will provide a more structured and effective social life for the students. We also hope that Dr. Martin's leadership will continue to inspire and guide the Student Personnel Office and the Social Committee in the future.

It Happened

November 3, 1930
The Junior Vols upset the odds by defeating the highly touted Green Wave of Delta State Teachers here on the night of Friday, October 27, in the state of 20-6.

The college farm is doing a profitable work. It is doing a profitable work in the production of a wide variety of crops, including corn, soybeans, and cotton. The farm is also producing a large amount of livestock, including cattle, hogs, and sheep. The college farm is a valuable asset to the university and is providing a source of income for the university.

October 18, 1937
Campus life is off to an excellent start. It has taken some of the new students a little while to get started but all are now learning fast. Such familiar sights as the "after dinner strollers," the "moon light brigade," "doorstep spooners," and "moon-eyed couples" are popping up everywhere.

October 7, 1952
As you have already heard from the male population on campus, every Thursday afternoon consists of a drill period for them. Also stated in the rules and regulations is this: "unexcused absences will result in severe penalties." So please, girls, don't keep him on a bench or in the living room too long on Thursday.

October 13, 1953
I, as a freshman, feel that freshman initiation should be carried out. Is not the initiation more or less tradition on the UTMB campus? Long before I planned on attending UTMB, I had heard about the freshman initiation. I can see no harm in the initiation. It helps overcome the inner-shyness in some people. Most colleges I have heard of have a freshman initiation—to me it is just a part of college life.

Twenty Points Tell How To Fail A Course Flat

1. If you must study, try to lump it all together and get it over with. The most suitable time would be the last week of school.
2. Keep your study table interesting. Place photographs, magazines, goldfish bowls, games, and other recreational devices all around you while studying.
3. Use mnemonic devices on everything you learn. Since they are easy to forget, this approach prevents your mind from getting cluttered up with stale facts.
4. Never interrupt your reading by checking on what you have learned. Recitation is not pleasant anyhow, since it shows up your deficiencies.
5. Avoid hollering with notebooks. If you plan to use one anyhow, so that you can draw pictures of airplanes during the lecture, try to follow the simplest arrangement: keep all notes for a given day on the same sheet of paper.
6. Remind yourself frequently how dull the course is. Never lose sight of the fact that you really wanted to sign up for something else.
7. Review only the night before examination, and confine your efforts to trying to guess what the teacher will ask.
8. Find out exactly when your final examination will be over, so that you can plan to forget everything about the course at that moment.
9. Stay up all night before important examinations. You can spend the first half of the evening discussing your determination to "crum" and the latter half drinking coffee.
10. Write your examination paper rapidly. Glance at the question and then put down your first impression.
11. When out on the campus, forget the facts learned in class. Do not let academic work get mixed up with your daily life.
12. When in the laboratory, work hurriedly. Do not waste time worrying about what is going on.
13. Ignore dictionaries. You could never learn all the words contained in one anyhow.
14. Remember that success in life is your main aim and never let extraneous matters, such as grades, interfere with this objective.

Dirt On Campus Hides Steam Heat

By ELAINE FREEMAN

Have you noticed the snake-like piles of dirt heaped in winding paths across our campus? Probably you have, and maybe you have even wondered about what it is. It really has several very important purposes.

Most of this dirt comes from the running of a new steam line from the heating plant to the Engineering Science Building now under construction. A new eight-inch line has been run which replaces the old line that served the cafeteria, the Science Building, and the old Engineering Building. It also ties into the line of the ABE Building, forming a loop. This line was built so as to be able to tie the new buildings onto it as they are built on our campus in the future. These lines are replacing the old lines which have been down since 1930.

Another source of the dirt is from the sewer line which runs across the street from the ABE Building to the new Engineering Science Building. This has caused an undesirable bump in the street, but will also be corrected.

Still another row of dirt is found where a new gas line is being put down by the city to heat water for the gym during the summer. This line runs from Freeman Hall across the highway to the gym.

The heating system is finished all but a few minor details and it will be ready to go to work keeping all the buildings warm this winter. It has not been a very pleasing sight and many people have been annoyed at having to make a few detours to avoid bumping or maybe taking a chance of falling into a six-foot ditch. However, it has cost approximately $75,000.00, and this should emphasize the fact that it has been well worth the unpleasantness it has caused us.

Campus Capers

By NELL B. WILLIAMS

Talked about from coast to coast are issues, sit-ins, and student support of them demonstrated by pickets in front of local stores. Cheating is at right or wrong, and is expelling a student too severe a penalty? Fraternity and sorority domination of campus politics.

Talked about on this individual campus are the fun things.

Dates. Some say it works to call the girl, tell her you are a reporter and have been asked to interview her in order to write the article.

It's a date.

Football. It will be "Major" October 22. Say boys what will be the major issue? Winning of course.

Transportation. Bicycles are a must for developing legs muscles and saving gasoline.

Food. When the word food is mentioned there is the simultaneous thought of "safe" terra-lina. Take the artificial orange drink is the thing to sip replacing coffee, tea or milk. A new favorite at the University of Tennessee March Branch is the donut.

Feet. They're used in many times these days, but the all-time favorite seems to be the sneakers, except here at UTMB where they're called firm-ly tennis shoes.

Mountain Climbing. At the University of Tennessee you can actually take a course in it. At UTMB it can be a more given to a fictitious class in which you claim to be enrolled so that there's at least one course you can actually laugh about.

Wedding Bells Vie With School Bells

Wedding bells rang for many of our students this summer and also since school has started this fall.

Many girls find themselves answering to different names as the roll is called in class. Some of them even have to be nudged a few times by their neighbors before they remember to answer.

Boys find themselves now men with a whole new list of "do's" and "don'ts". Some of our students were unable to return to our campus, but have started new lives in other places.

Sherry Smith and Tom Hendrix were married August 28 in Decaturville, Tennessee. Sherry attended school here for two years, and Tom is an alumni of our school. They are presently making their home in Adamsville, Tennessee, where Tom is employed.

Peggy Brummitte and Wendell Pharris were married at the Methodist Church of Martin on August 20. Peggy and Wendell are both in school here this fall. They are at home at Westview Terrace, Apt. 19.

Wanda Dodson and Perry Smith were married June 19 at the Methodist Church in Trimble. Wanda and Perry are both students here this fall. Perry is serving as ASA president. They are making their home in Westview Terrace, Apt. 13.

Suzie Hollomon and Frank Dodd were married this summer in Alamo. Suzie and Frank are continuing their studies here this fall. They are presently living in the trailer park across from the gym.

Paula Allen and Gordon Morris were married in August at Sharon, Tennessee. Paula is doing her practice teaching this quarter, and Gordon is teaching at Palmersville.

They are making their home at Palmersville, Tennessee.

Carol Baxendale and Eddie McBee were married in August in Union City, Tennessee. Carol and Eddie both attended school here last year, where Eddie was a member of the basketball team. Both Carol and Eddie are continuing their education at another college this fall.

Mary Elizabeth Olive and Bill Teuton became man and wife in Union City, Tennessee, in August. Liz and Bill both attended school here last year, and Bill received his B. S. degree in June. They are living in Missouri, where Bill has a coaching position.

Carmen Tilghman and Mike Williams were married this summer in Kenton, Tennessee. Carmen and Mike have reentered school this fall. They are making their home at 300 Poplar Street here in Martin.

Royce Byrd and Bill Crossnoe were married this summer in Alamo, Tennessee. Royce was a student here last year, and Bill is also a former student of UTMB. Bill is at the present time holding a coaching position.

Probably our newest married couple is Betty Ann Terrell and Charles Eugene Bell. Betty Ann and Charles were married October 1, in Dyer, Tennessee. Both are continuing their studies here this fall.

Doris Brundige and Sonny Smith were married in August. Doris and Sonny are both from Martin. Doris is a 1958 Martin High School graduate and attended school at UTMB this summer. Sonny is attending school here this fall.

Mixer Said To Be Largest Ever

The annual ASA Mixer held on the football field September 23, was said to be the largest ever held at the University of Tennessee, Martin, during freshman orientation week.

The theme of the mixer was a "National Convention of Liars," with Melba Whitesides presiding. Groups designated by states with appointed governors participated in stunts, contests and folk games. The highlight of the evening was the beauty revue in which boys modeled dresses made of newspaper and crepe paper.

Following a number of games and refreshments, the party went to the gym for social dancing.

Churches Welcome UTMB Students

The churches of Martin greeted students of UTMB with a Church-Welcome party during the week of registration.

Each church presented a different type of entertainment. Central and First Baptist joined together in presenting a Bar-None-Round-Up. The Methodist students enjoyed a Political Rally. The Church of Christ Group had a barbecue supper and a scavenger hunt.

The expert, who also is a handwriting consultant for a pen company, (Sheaffer) said that irregularities in slant, letter size, spacing and alignment, plus inconsistent letter formation, are the most common cause of illegibility.

Domitory Shifts Make Jack And Jill Happy

By NELL B. WILLIAMS

The conversion of Freeman Hall to women's quarters has come about as a result of the increased enrollment in this fall quarter.

Forty freshmen and five upperclass girls were honored to get Freeman Hall as their new home. These girls, with the help of their new dorm hostess, Mrs. Cicla Murray, are said to be forty-five of the happiest girls on UTMB campus. Such qualities that add up to happy Freeman Girls are: friendliness, respect, excitement, eagerness, manners, action, and neatness. Certainly these qualities are characteristic of this group. Just ask any girl from Freeman Hall if she is happy and she'll tell you that a laugh is worth one hundred groans in any market.

Action was expressed during the week of initiation when the upperclassmen's rooms were found moved out on the "patio". Respect, manners, and neatness were visual characteristics when they very agreeably cleaned the rooms up as directed. Any of these freshmen girls will tell you their favorite toy or recite to you their favorite nursery rhyme with eagerness. Also when one of these girls smiles and speaks to you she is only proving her happiness and friendliness. Then you always sense expression of excitement when a girl says "I'm from Freeman Hall". The secret of these happy girls is not in doing what one likes but in liking what one has to do, for instance... live in Freeman Hall converted.

SHANNON HALL RADIATES

Shannon Hall (Carter's) has become the radiation point for about forty boys who arise early in the morning with much pep and vigor to get the day started.

These noble young men have only about four blocks to walk to school, so why should this call for the alarm clock to be set for 5:30 a.m. Upon inquiry as to the early rising, I found that they were awakened in the early dawn to the Goodmorning Kellogg Corn Flake Song. Some occupants of the dorm consider this one of their pet peeves. Of course this seems to be a pet peeve which could easily be destroyed. Find the vocalist in the group.

Most of the boys in Shannon Hall are freshmen. One of these fellows got a letter during the summer giving general information about what to bring to school. It consisted of such data as party dresses for special occasions. It is a general complaint that this letter failed to inform them of the need for such items as a washing machine, ironing board, and lots of energy for walking.

Now, there are some highlights found around Shannon Hall, says President Drake. Among these are private baths, carpeting in the halls, fans in the halls, newly decorated rooms and a highly favored dorm mother, Mrs. Mary L. Shannon. The boys named their dorm as well as their dorm club in her honor. The dorm club is Mu Lambda Sigma and contains the initials of the hostess.

There will surely be high hopes for you vigorous and peppy fellows who begin your day early because early to bed and early to rise makes a man healthy, wealthy and wise, they do say.

For certain young men this presents a career of real executive opportunity. Here, perhaps you will have the chance to master a profession full of meaning, excitement and rewards... as a Navigator in the U. S. Air Force.

To qualify for Navigator training as an Aviation Cadet you must be an American citizen between 19 and 26½—single, healthy and intelligent. Alpha Gams Train Pledges

The members of Alpha Gamma Rho local fraternity, a colony of the national organization, are beginning an active program of pledge training this week, according to Stanley Miller, president.

"We have tried to pick a fair number of good men from the freshman and sophomore groups," Miller said. "We had two rush parties the second week of school and the group of men that we pledged showed an exceptional amount of interest. We hope to deepen and further their interest in AGR and UTMB."

In addition to the rush parties for prospective pledges, the active members have held a number of meetings to formulate plans for the coming year.

"A July meeting on Kentucky Lake kept our interest up," said Billy Townes, vice-president, "and everyone is back this fall full of pep and plans for the future."

Student Dietitians Get Experience

By CAROL AUSTIN

Have you noticed two extra white uniforms around the cafeteria lately? Chances are you have for they seem to be getting around smoothly in the place these days. If you've noticed more carefully, you know these prim outfits are ably filled by Margaret Nutt and Nell Brown Williams.

Both girls are home economics students majoring in the field of foods. When the opportunity came along for two girls to assist Mrs. Doris Latta, cafeteria dietitian, both girls saw it was an excellent opportunity to gain experience in their chosen field.

Two stepping stones were recorded registration day as enrollment passed the 1,000 and the 1,105 marks on the way to a new milestone for UTMB — 1,124 students. Cynthia Simpson of South Fulton (left) was No. 1,000.

Wayne Tansil, UTMB public relations officer, is nailing down 1,105, which was the correct enrollment at time of the barbecue given in the I.C. Park by the Martin Merchants Retail Association for students and faculty members. At right of sign are students, Bill Fuller of Memphis and Jimmy Wallace of Atoka.

Annual Barbecue Draws Big Crowd

A huge crowd of UTMB students and faculty members attended the second annual Merchants Welcome to Martin Barbecue Friday night, Sept. 30, at the I.C. Park. Elvis Dick, president of the Merchants group, stated that more than 900 persons attended the affair.

Following the barbecue, a street dance was held for those attending and proved a highlight of the event for the many students attending. Students, faculty members, and UT officials were all high in their praise of the affair as an indication of the interest merchants and townsmen have in the college and the student body.

Views Varied On Frosh Initiation

The freshman Initiation this year was somewhat of a change over the past years, and only a small minority of students were not too cooperative, according to reports.

"In general, I think the students were very co-operative during the initiation, and there was a definite improvement over the past two years," said student personnel officer Horace B. Smith.

Almost all forms of "hazing" have been omitted, since the University feels that UTMB is large enough to dispense with all forms of "hazing" and only be concerned with formal initiation. A large majority of students and faculty members agree that initiations which are carried out over a long period of time lose their popularity with both the freshmen and upperclassmen.

One freshman was injured when an old injury was aggravated, perhaps, during an "air-raid." Also an upperclassman was reported to have received an injury during a hassle at the flagpole in which the freshmen were attempting to bring down the freshman flag.

The All Students Association and the Student-Faculty Organization hope that the tug-of-war will be instituted in place of the annual flagpole event.

Various opinions have been voiced by both the freshmen and upperclassmen and also by the faculty and institutional officials. The majority agree that the "horseplay" should be omitted, although some students and others agree that the students should be emotionally stable enough to stand up under the general procedures.

This year the girls' initiation was quite different from that of previous years. Many of the upperclass girls feel that the freshmen should continue to wear their beanie, since the freshmen lost the tug-of-war, which some say was held to determine whether the freshmen would continue to wear their beanie until half-time of the Homecoming game.

Others feel that the ones that "couldn't take it," with the exception of the extremely rough treatment, were emotionally unstable and needed to be able to adjust themselves to the changes which are inevitable in college and in life.

Many also feel that the initiation is carried out in a spirit of fun and that the students should feel that it is not something being done to them personally. Some think that many failed to recognize the "good" in initiation—that it enables freshmen to become better acquainted with each other and with the upperclassmen.

Some viewed the girls' initiation as being too lenient, and the boys' as being more "civilized."

On the whole, though, from various reports, the students seemed to agree that the initiation was much more "dig-nified" and in accordance with the rules and regulations set up by the Student-Faculty Board and The All-Students Association.

Jim Hudson Is Reed President

Jim Hudson, a sophomore in agriculture, has been elected president of Reed Hall.

Other officers are Don Long, vice-president; Bob Hurt, secretary-treasurer; Maurice Bugg, annual representative; Ronald Guthrie, ASA representative and John M. Morris, reporter.

Plans for "Autumn Leaves," the major social of the dorm, has been discussed and everyone should make their plans to attend, Reed Hallers say. The official date will be announced later.

Fortner Heads Freshman Class

Jim Fortner was elected president of the freshman class in a campus election held October 4.

Others elected to serve the freshman class were Terry Huffstetter, vice-president; Ann Hill, secretary-treasurer; Patty Sue Alexander, reporter; Sharon Crabtree, ASA representative; and Sara Ann Smith, annual representative.

More Harm Than Good!

(ACP)—Lunch counter sit-down strikes still are attracting widespread attention in the college press. Taking the position that Negro strikers have lost ground in the South is a by-lined story by Griffin Smith of the Rice Institute (Tex.) THRESHER.

"As the smoke gradually clears from the blaze of Negro sit-down strikes at lunch counters across the South, one fact stands out more solidly than ever; the Negroes, fighting for 'rights' which they in truth have no claim to, have lost support among moderates in the South and have done themselves more harm than good.

"For every victory the sit-downers have achieved, as in Galveston and San Antonio, there has been a corresponding defeat. In Memphis, Mayor Henry Loeb has announced the postponing of bi-racial committee meetings and programs of aid benefiting Negroes until attitudes calm.

"In Marshall, potentially the most explosive situation in the country today, the inter-racial commission which had kept down racial friction since 1875 has ceased to function. And in numerous Southern cities, Little Rock included, the demonstrators have been promptly arrested.

"The first tragedy is that the whole thing is not a spontaneous expression of the Negro people, but a carefully organized program by the NAA CP and other extremist Negro groups. Aided by Northern news reporters more interested in 'the big story' than in accurate reporting, these agitators have attempted to stir up nationwide anti-South sentiment in time to strengthen the civil rights bill now pending in Congress.

"The second tragedy is that the sit-down method the students are using is neither legal nor moral. There has been so much talk about the 'right' of the Negroes to be served that it should be made as clear as black and white that no such right exists. Private property remains private, and the owner of any private, non-monopoly establishment has every right in the world to deny service to anyone, Negro or white, that he chooses. It is a privilege, not a right, to obtain service at a restaurant.

"And it is certainly not morally right to take up seats at a business establishment to deny a proprietor of his trade, and to contribute to a violent situation when the 'right' one is supposedly defending is not even his right.

"The error the Negroes have made is to employ the sit-down method—not a justifiable form of protest, because it stops legitimate business and opens the door to widespread violence and resentment. But still this does not mean that the Negroes must passively accept something which they feel is wrong.

"They certainly have the right to refuse to patronize the store which refuses them lunch. And, employed on a concerted scale by large numbers of Negroes, the ensuing economic pressures would put the problem clearly in focus: whether the community and the storeowner would rather preserve segregation, or lose the trade which the boycott would take away. This is the Negro's unquestioned right, and it is the only way he can properly state his case.

"The sooner the Negro student learns that sit-downs will win him only arrest and fines, the sooner it will be that he realizes the boycott (and not the violence-provoking plays for publicity at lunch counters) is the thing which will ultimately do most toward achieving his goals.

New Student Center For Baptist Students

By ED M. CHENETTE

A long-cherished dream will become a reality Sunday for the many Baptist students at UT-Martin when official dedicatory ceremonies are held for the new Baptist Student Center. The center is located on Hurt Street at the southeast corner of the campus.

The building faces north and is of Southern colonial style. It is constructed of brick and block on a concrete slab floor and has a combination hip and flat roof. Heating is by a central gas unit using ceramic tile ducts in the floor.

As one enters the main door, he finds himself in a large assembly room which runs east and west. At the west end of the room is a stage. The room is about 82 by 30 and will be used for both religious and recreational purposes.

At the east end of the room is a hall running east. Immediately off the hall to the right is a large and well-equipped kitchen, with facilities for serving both large and small groups. Feature of the kitchen is a huge gas range with six large burners and an enormous griddle. The kitchen also contains a refrigerator, a stainless steel sink, and numerous built-in cabinets. There is also a serve-through counter to the assembly room.

Around the hall and to the north are living quarters for two boys, who will be caretakers for the building. The quarters consist of a large bedroom, private bath, and closets. Honor of being the first college students to serve as caretaker goes to two sophomores, Harry Clift of Newbern and Robert Galligan of Manchester.

A hall running north and south branches off from the hall earlier mentioned. Off of this hall at the far east end of the building are three storage rooms and two rest rooms.

Returning to the assembly room, one passes through a door at the west end and enters what surely will be the most popular single room of the new center—a large, spacious and most attractive lounge. The lounge runs north and south with walls of mauve beige and wall to wall carpeting of a complementary shade. The first point of attraction is a large fireplace on the east wall. Two sofas in Danish modern (used throughout the lounge) face the fireplace at about a 45 degree angle. The walls on each side of the fireplace have built-in bookshelves and magazine racks, already well-filled. Three other sofas, these of light plastic, and several comfortable chairs provide ample opportunity for friendly visiting and relaxation. At the south end of the lounge on the east is a library room with more built-in book-

Vols Journey To Livingston

The UTMB Vols journey to Livingston, Ala., this weekend to meet Livingston State College in a Saturday afternoon game.

The Livingston Tigers are classed as a dangerous ball club. They use a multiple offense consisting of split T, winged T, slot T, and the spread. Scouting reports indicate that Livingston prefers a wide open game. Head coach Robert Carroll said, "If we are going to hold them down our defense must be alert."

Feeling good over their 20 to 12 victory last Saturday over the Missouri Miners, the Vols are now sporting a 3-1 record, the only blemish being the Arkansas State Teachers who last year were the AIC conference champs.

Center Harris Pritchett suffered a leg injury in the Missouri game and will not see action. Other players on the doubtful list are tackles Frank McCann and Sonny Pitts, center Vernon Hoyle, halfback Ted Sines and guard Bob Cartrett.

UTMB Beats Navy 35 To 0

Riding on Vernon Prather's passing and halfback Wilbur Edmiston's fancy running, the UTMB Vols swamped Memphis Navy 35 to 0 in the season's opener September 17.

Edmiston went over for three of the Vols five touchdowns, one of them on a 62 yard run in the third quarter. His 18 points in that game made him the leading scorer in the state that week.

Prather pitched for two touchdowns, once to halfback Gene Brodie in a play that covered 35 yards, the other to Edmiston on a 17 yard toss.

Fullback Darrel Smith got the first UTMB touchdown with a 2-yard power drive over center. The Vols picked up 290 yards rushing and 91 yards passing.

Vols Beat Gobs In Final Minute

Vernon Prather fired a 54-yard aerial to Gene Brodie in the last 40 seconds of the game October 1 to give the UTMB Vols a 13-7 victory over Austin Peay State College.

UTMB tallied first in the contest on a one yard plunge by Prather in the first quarter. Bob Zachary added the extra point. Austin Peay came back in the second period to tie the score on a one yard run by Fred Alexander. Ralph Grant added the conversion.

Both teams missed field goal attempts in the third and fourth quarters before the Vols scored the winning touchdown in the final seconds.

UTMB racked up 225 yards in offense as compared to 212 yards for Austin Peay. The Gobs had the edge in first downs with 15 to 13 for the Vols.

Intramurals Are Getting Started

By MARTHA SCOTT

The colorful pageant of intramurals is here again.

The eight teams have, brand new leaders who are expecting their team to be tournament winners in all competition.

The women's intramural captains for the 1960-61 year are as follows: Mary Black, black; Judy Grabel, blue; Judy Forrester, brown; Mert Scott, green; Shirley Hamilton, orange; Sandra Rust, red; Pat Featherston, white; Kay Watkins, yellow. As of yet the men's captains haven't been chosen.

For the freshman and transfer students here is a brief run down of the activities, opportunities, and objectives of the intramural program at UTMB. There are eight men's teams with eight corresponding women's teams. You are placed on a team and will remain on that team as long as you attend UTMB. When the new students are placed they will be notified and will be able to locate their name on lists placed on the bulletin board in the gym; the name of your captain will be underlined. If you do not already know your captain, ask someone who is good in one sport and will not enter other contests. Every time you play you make a point for your team, the more people participating the more points received. This is the only way to help your team be top scorer. Your team will be as good as its members. Without your cooperation and participation nothing can be accomplished.

You do not have to be a professional to participate in the games. A person who is willing to try and does is more valuable than a person who is good in one sport and will not enter other contests. Every time you play you make a point for your team, the more people participating the more points received. This is the only way to help your team be top scorer. Your team will be as good as its members. Without your cooperation and participation nothing can be accomplished.

Intramurals are FUN spelled with capitals. They are, confidently attention magnets. People who may not know you

Vols Made Gold Strike Saturday

Wilbur Edmiston's running and pass catching paced UTMB to a 20 to 12 win over Missouri School of Mines at Rolla, Mo., Saturday afternoon.

The Orangemen jumped to a 6-0 lead in the second quarter when Billy Watson plunged from the two yard line. However, Paul Wiegard bulled over from the one with 25 seconds remaining in the first half to even the score at half-time.

The Vols went ahead again in the final period when Edmiston combined with Vernon Prather on a 66-yard scoring pass. With one minute and 35 seconds to play Glen Usher dived over from the one to account for the other Missouri tally. With the score 13-12 the Miners decided to run for the extra two points. On a pass play the Miner quarterback was swarmed and the attempt failed. Edmiston then broke loose with 30 seconds left in the game on a spectacular 68-yard run.

Missouri Mines had a total offense of 294 yards to UTMB's 237 and picked up 18 first downs to the Vols' six.

The Vols travel to Livingston State this weekend. The game will be played at 2 p.m. in Livingston, Ala.
